Training & Education, MCX, Mumbai

Dr. Uttam Sapate,
Professor, IMERT, Pune

▶ Resource Person:

The trainers for this program would be MCX nominated Market Experts from the Commodities domain.

▶ Program Content:

The Commodity derivatives space is still nascent in India. While in most developed countries it is several times larger than the stock markets, in India it is still the reverse. This FDP is to inform, educate and train people who are interested in learning and engaging in the commodity derivatives market.

A one-day FDP on 'Commodities Markets' has been designed to provide a better understanding and an in-depth exposure to trading in the Commodities markets' segment. The following main topics will be covered in the program-

- 1) Commodity Derivatives Markets
- 2) Risk Management
- 3) Futures Derivative Exchange
- 4) Delivery & Warehousing

Participants will be provided with the relevant industry examples for the purpose of analysis in order to facilitate the experiential learning.

▶ Registration Fee:

NIL. This faculty development programme is being organised with the support from MCX-Investor Protection Fund. However, online advance registration is mandatory with confirmation to participate.

▶ Joint Certificate:

Joint certification will be issued to the participants after successful completion of the program by MCX and IMERT.

Participants would be provided with registration kit and working lunch.

The program is non-residential.

▶ Venue:
