Brief report /Description on the event

An orientation session on the subject 208- RM 03 – Field Work Project was conducted for MBA I Semester II students to familiarize them with the objectives, structure, methodology, and evaluation components of the field work project. The session aimed to provide clarity on expectations and guide students for effective project planning and execution. The session was conducted by Prof Pranjal Jadhav, Faculty coordinator for field work, who provided detailed guidance on the subject framework and project requirements as per SPPU guidelines.

Objectives of the Orientation Session was:

- To introduce the scope and importance of the Field Work Project
- To explain the subject syllabus and learning outcomes
- To provide guidelines on project selection and execution
- To clarify evaluation and submission procedures
- To prepare students for industry and research exposure

Prof Pranjal Jadhav explained the purpose of the Field Work Project, emphasizing its role in bridging theoretical knowledge with practical application. Students were briefed on identifying suitable organizations, selecting relevant project topics , and understanding ethical considerations during fieldwork.

More than 152 students attended the session.
